About A-Leagues

The A-Leagues represent the pinnacle of professional football in Australia, comprising men's, women's, youth and e-leagues competitions.

Since gaining independence from Football Australia at the start of 2021, the A-Leagues are embarking on an ambitious strategy to drive engagement with men's and women's elite football and build on football's undisputed position as the country's most popular participation sport.

From 2021, the newly re-branded men's and women's competitions (brought under the A-Leagues brand to reflect football's young, inclusive and forward-looking audience) will be shown on the 10 Network and on its sibling, the new-to-market Paramount+ streaming service.

With 10 clubs in the women's league this season – plus a commitment to add at least two more next year – and 12 in the men's competition, the A-Leagues has a stated aim to grow both competitions and create new heroes for its deepening cohort of members and supporters.

The A-Leagues' partnership with 10 ViacomCBS will mean live free-to-air coverage of a top billing A-League Women match on 10 Bold at 4:00pm every Sunday, with the remaining games available on Paramount+

WOMEN'S NATIONAL SOCCER LEAGUE

From 1996 to 2004, the Women's National Soccer League (WNSL) showcased Australia's best women's players in a national league competition for the first time. Over its nine seasons, the league consisted of teams mostly representing the state and territory-based academies and institutes, and Australian Institute of Sport players.

A variety of league formats existed over the nine summer seasons of the WNSL, including dual-conference leagues, sometimes incorporating cross-over rounds. The number of games for each team in the regular season varied from five in the 2000/01 season, to ten in each of the last four seasons. Each season concluded with a grand final to determine the champion team.

Most teams participated under different names throughout the nine seasons of the WNSL. For consistency, each team is generally referred to here by their region name: Canberra, New South Wales, Northern New South Wales (Northern NSW), South Australia, Queensland and Victoria. West Australian team 'Western Waves' played in six rounds of the final WNSL season 2004.
